Nov. 10th, 1926

RE: JOHN GREEN, Waterbury, Conn.

RPT

After receiving instructions, operative boarded 11:30 A.M. train from Grand Central Station and arrived in Bridgeport at 1 P.M. From there took a bus to Waterbury, arriving at 2:15 P.M.

Operative then went to the colored section of Waterbury and started investigation as to the whereabouts of John Green. Covered all the pool rooms, barber shops, restaurants and speakeasies in this section which covers the following streets:

Pearl, East and West Bronson, Burton, Bishop, Croton and Vine Streets.

Operative also canvassed furnished room houses but could not find anybody by the name of John Green. Operative spoke to a letter carrier who had that particular section and he told operative that he did not have a John Green on his route, but that he did have one Harry Green, who lives at 92 Pearl Street.

Arriving there operative learned that this Harry Green had come up from Texas where he had been living for ten years.

Operative then searched the city directories and found a John Green at 59 Burton St. Called there and spoke to Mrs. Green, who referred him to her husband's store at 817 North Main Street. This is a barber shop and this Green is a white man and Jewish and is not the Green in question. He referred operative to a John Green at 64 East Farm Street, but on called at this address learned that this man is in the wholesale candy business and not the man we are looking for.

Operative then went to the Police Department and asked the Lieutenant at the desk if he had anybody on the records by the name of John Green. He said he did not recall anybody by that name, but requested operative to come back tomorrow and he would see what he could learn during that time.

Respectfully submitted:
